We, the seniors, have done our best to live up to the high standards of Huguenot Academy. We have worked hard, both in and out of class, to burn bright the spirit which set those standards for us. We will be graduated soon and now that we are about to leave behind this, our alma mater, we wish to leave behind certain ideals for the rest of the student body for it is up to them to keep and increase the respect and honor that is now associated with the name of Huguenot Academy. We, therefore, leave behind this 1965 PIONEER, a record of our day at Huguenot, and invite you to remember yesterday, take pride in today, and look at the future with us.

YESTERDAY

An independent and free spirit, dedicated to the best in education, gave birth to a private academy in Powhatan County, a place known for such pioneering spirit. It was here that the French Huguenots, who left their native land in search of religious freedom, settled in 1700 on land granted them by King William of England. Spirit of this same genre resulted in the establishment of a school, fittingly called Huguenot Academy.

Huguenot Academy, Incorporated, was chartered by the State Corporation Commission of the Commonwealth of Virginia on August 31, 1959. The founders of Huguenot Academy projected a slow but steady development and provided for the addition of one grade each year. In September, 1959, Huguenot Academy opened officially; the twenty-five first graders of the first class of Huguenot Academy attended school in the assembly room of the Bank of Powhatan.

In September, 1960, according to plan, a second class was added to the school. To provide the necessary room for the additional enrollment, the Academy moved to the Dunn Building on Route 60. At that time Huguenot Academy instituted a search for a permanent location for the expanding school. When the search for a suitable location proved fruitless, Mr. R. C. Goodwyn donated the land which the school now occupies.

By Autumn, 1961, the new building was underway but not completed. Meanwhile, the Academy had increased another grade, and the first grade of Huguenot Academy once again met in the assembly room of the Bank of Powhatan. The second and third grades remained in the Dunn Building. In March, 1962, the new building was completed and the entire Academy, then the first three grades, moved to the present Lower School building.

In 1962, in response to the demand of many people in Powhatan County and the surrounding areas, those who had pioneered the establishment of Huguenot Academy determined to expand the Academy from four to twelve grades for the school year 1963-64. The original building adequately housed the six elementary grades, but construction of a new building for the Upper School was necessary.

Completion of such construction before the opening of school in September seemed impossible for a time, but many men in the community volunteered their labor after their working hours. Through this type of united and co-operative effort, Huguenot Academy proudly began the 1963-1964 session on schedule as a full-fledged school.

More than five hundred twenty-five students were enrolled in 1963-64, more than twenty times the number of students with which the Academy had begun. On June 10, 1964, twenty-eight seniors, donning caps and gowns, formed the first graduating class and oldest alumni of Huguenot Academy.

TODAY

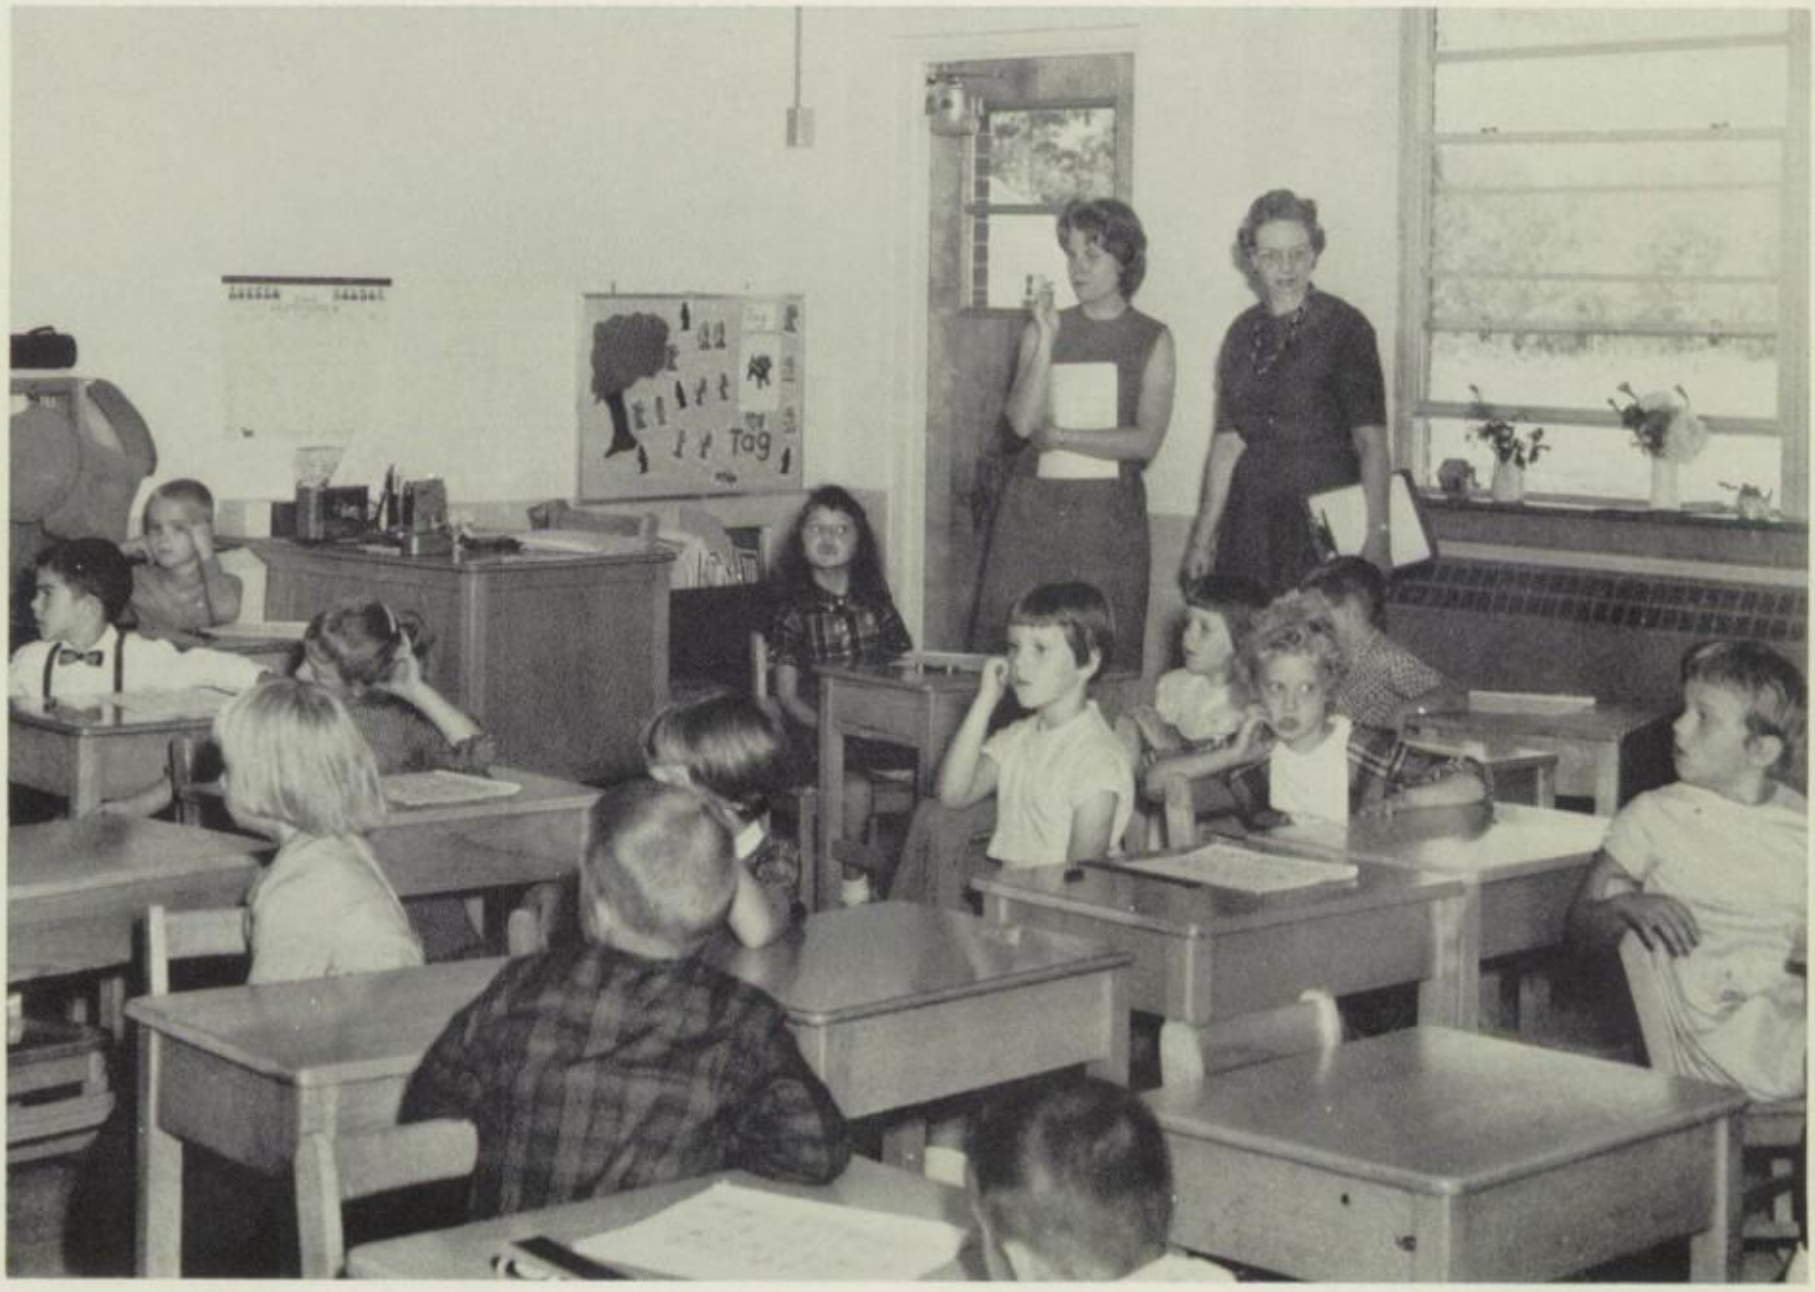
In an atmosphere of congeniality and co-operation, students and faculty together strive for satisfaction, both personal and in the eyes of others. Through experiences in the classroom and extracurricular activities, each student gains knowledge which will help him to be a better citizen of the modern world.

English, social and natural sciences, and mathematics form the core of general education, with foreign languages, business, and music as opportunities for enrichment. Full advantage is taken of every chance for betterment of the individual; the students are active participants in every phase of school life and school spirit runs high.

Businessmen, homemakers, musicians, mathematicians, artists, farmers, teachers, writers ----people of all vocations will be able to say proudly tomorrow that they were a part of "today" at Huguenot Academy.



TOMORROW

Tomorrow is a dream. Tomorrow will be what we choose it to be. Tomorrow can be influenced.

Two buildings may become six or eight or ten. A faculty of twenty-six may become fifty-six or seventy-six. Forty seniors may become a hundred forty.

It is probable that everyone has his own personal idea of tomorrow at Huguenot Academy--each one equally possible. One thing, though, is certain if this institution is to thrive, expand, and be worthy of its place in our society; the ideas on which it was established and the ideals which are an integral part of Huguenot Academy today must be constantly kept in mind and, as a heritage, woven throughout the Huguenot Academy of tomorrow.

Mr. C. G. Yagel

Shortly, after Huguenot Academy was opened on the present site, Mr. Yagel came to assume its headmastership, a job for which he is well qualified. He was graduated from Bridgewater College with a Bachelor of Arts and later from the University of Virginia with a Master's in Education. For twenty years he held the principalships of a number of schools and for nine years he headed the science department at Fork Union Military Academy.

Mr. Yagel was born in Indiana but came to Virginia as a young boy. He is married and has two sons and three grandchildren.

MR. YAGEL IN THE CLASSROOM: Mr. Yagel utilizes his education and long experience in his Chemistry science class. Here he is supervising a laboratory experiment.

PRINCIPAL

Mrs. Lillian West

Mrs. West, a native and lifelong resident of Powhatan County, brings to Huguenot Academy a wealth of experience and training. She was graduated from Madison College with a degree in elementary education. Since then she has studied further at Longwood College, Richmond Professional Institute and the University of Virginia. She worked with the Powhatan County School Board for twenty-one years. When Huguenot Academy was first begun in the basement of the bank in Powhatan Courthouse, Mrs. West was its first teacher.

Mrs. West is married and has two children, a son and a daughter, and two grandsons.

PERSONNEL

Without its personnel, the smooth operation of Huguenot Academy, from day to day throughout the year, would be impossible.

The two school secretaries, Mrs. Yates and Mrs. Maxey, are always ready to help with any problem that comes to their desks. When items, such as magic markers, thumb tacks, staplers, and paper clips, are desperately needed but nowhere to be found, the secretaries manage to find a supply to lend.

Lewis Urbine, the bus mechanic for the Academy, can be seen not only filling buses but, at times, fixing the beloved Coke machines or garbage disposal in the Home Ec. cottage, adjusting thermostats or worrying over plumbing.

The two janitors, Mr. Jimmy Williams and Mr. Spears Williams, work late into the night, long after the students have gone home, to make ready the school again for students.

The bus drivers, in addition to their regular services, give freely of their time to take the Upper School students to the War Memorial Building in the Courthouse for assemblies.

The personnel at Huguenot contributes to the growth of the Academy daily with their sincere concern, ready smiles and tangible help.

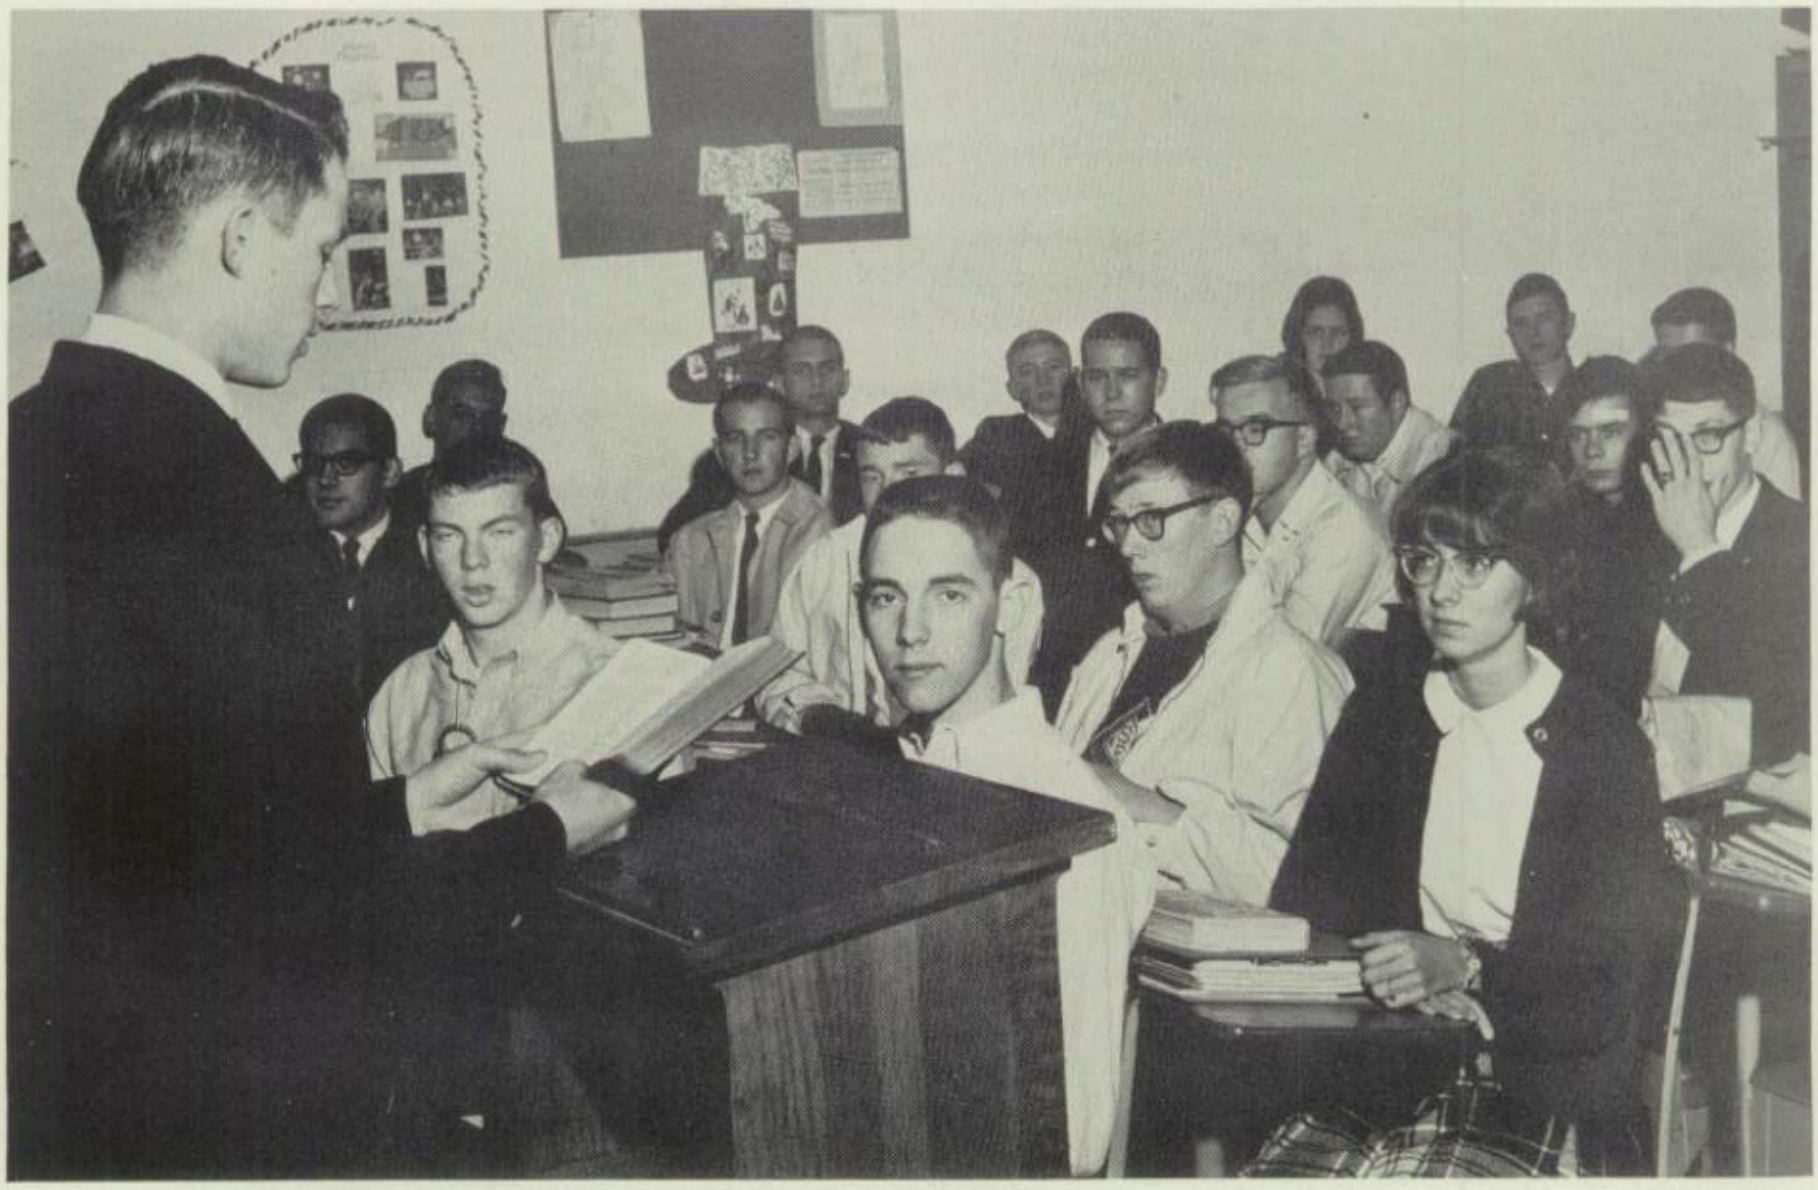
SENIORS



The curtains arose as 36 young stars appeared in the Junior classroom at Huguenot Academy on September 8, 1963. Our director for this act was Miss Johns.

The Jr.-Sr. Prom was an important scene in this act. The theme of the prom was "Bon-Voyage."

As Juniors we selected our colors to be green and white, our flower to be red carnations and our motto to be "Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well."

In the final act 38 experienced stars descended upon Mr. Pleasants; we considered ourselves brilliant stars. But we soon found out we had much to learn.

SENIORS

Our class officers for this act were: Ed Braudrick, President; Eddie Stagg, Vice President; Edna Marshall, Secretary; Billy Boelt, Treasurer; Joyce Stratton, Reporter.

For money-making activities we had the Senior Play, "Finders Creepers", the Powder-Puff Football game, which the Senior and Sophomore girls played against the Junior and Freshman girls, and the Winter Carnival.

In the Spring, Florida is our destination.

As the curtain descends upon us, we face still a larger stage--the world. But due to the wonderful guidance and assistance of all our directors we can now face the world and make our motto a living one--"Whatever is worth doing is worth doing well."

With pride and exaltation, we are juniors! From ignominious sophomores we have advanced to responsible, enviable juniors!

With due regard for our status and budding reputation, we began the year with an enthusiastic determination to give the seniors the best possible Prom. First things first, and in order to raise money for the venture, we sold lunches at the Field Trials in October -- an undertaking so profitable there will be a repeat at the spring trials. We've solved our pecuniary problems but much work is yet to be done. As this is being written, we are advancing and finalizing our plans for the Prom theme and are preparing to obtain the necessary materials.

In recognition of our status and with enhancement to our budding reputation, we chose our class rings the first week in December. They should arrive in February, effecting official recognition of us as the class of 1966.

We are sophomores -- an awkward age. We are neither new nor old; we are neither beginning nor ending. We are old hands at a high school schedule but not old enough to be getting nostalgic about it. We like to think we're realists. We have only one aim -- to make the grade and become juniors.

In this interim we have participated, nonetheless, in as many school activities as our status allows us. We elected a homecoming princess, Patricia Gills, and Snow Queen candidates, Elizabeth Brauer and Anita Canada.

In the spring, we will have a bakesale to begin stocking the pantry for an expensive and anticipated junior year.

After an exciting first year at Huguenot Academy, climaxed by a class party on June 10, 1964, at Anne Moncure's home, we eagerly returned for our second and freshman year. This was the first year that we could choose our subjects of study; so we have begun to plot our course in life. To guide us through the year we soon elected officers, and the freshman year of our class was officially begun. At the beginning we looked toward the future; we chose a motto, flower and colors. As the year raced by, royalty blossomed from our room: a homecoming princess, Nancy Bowlin, and "Snow Queen" candidates, Bonnie Russell and Jane Morrison. Now, as the year closes, we look forward to a trip to a nearby university to see a science exhibit.

We, in the eighth grade, have a rigid curriculum this year, which will give us the basis for a successful high school career. We are observing and sometimes pondering the enormities of high school. Next year, we begin to plan a course of study which will determine our path after high school days.

We have already begun to participate actively in high school life. This year we were able to join the clubs we yearned to join last year. In a limited way the boys entered into sports and several worked faithfully with the Junior Varsity basketball team. We chose a homecoming princess, Bonnie Lilly, and Snow Queen candidates, Fran Morris and Ellen K. Morris.

Our most outstanding accomplishment, and one which should certainly go down on the record, is participation in the Science Fair.

The class of 1970, like a New Year baby, arrived on the Upper School scene kicking. Right away we lost no time in getting organized. We elected more officers than any other grade in the school; we made blackboard charts, trash can charts and devotional charts; we had committees to change the bulletin board with the season; finally, we chose colors, a flower and motto to carry us through the years.

With characteristic enthusiasm we had one of the first and most successful bakesales of the year. We made $52.50 which is helping to finance a spring tour of historical sites in and around Charlottesville.

Halloween came and Mrs. Washburn gave us our first Upper School party. Next on the calendar, Christmas, and we had the biggest tree in the whole school. Wayne Brown cut it down and he and Mrs. Washburn hauled it in the V.W. to school. We made glorious homemade decorations, both for the tree and the whole room. Mrs. Tomlinson, our room-mother, together with our parents, gave us one of the best parties ever. We played games and had delicious treats. We also topped the whole Upper School in our contributions to the "White Christmas."

Now we look forward to Spring and our trip to Charlottesville -- and, oh yes, all our Upper School years.

STUDENT COOPERATIVE ORGANIZATION

The SCO, which is governed by elected representatives from each high school grade, is an organization of all the students. Its purposes are to co-ordinate all school activites and participate in the solution of student problems. Its goals are to encourage rules of good conduct, promote school loyalty, stimulate school spirit, and practice good citizenship. In short, the SCO attempts to develop in the school the kind of students who are worthy citizens of the home, school and community.

The SCO initiated two new projects this year, with a view to broadening students' horizons. It conducted a "White Christmas" for the lest fortunate. It also contributed to the County March of Dimes Campaign, whose committee a member of our school served. The hope is that the school might contribute to the community which has contributed so much to it.

Membership in the National Honor Society is based upon Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character. The object of the Huguenot-Manakin Chapter is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in the students of Huguenot Academy.

An initiation assembly was held after Christmas in which we explained our goals to the students. At that time new members, Bill Maxey, Dennis Walton and Jim Simpson, were tapped.

The sole purpose of the FTA is to promote among students an interest in a career of teaching. In accordance with its purpose, the FTA offers its members an opportunity to view teaching from the standpoint of a teacher. Each member is assigned to a faculty member whom he assists.

One of the highlights of each year is a trip which all the members take to a nearby college or university. There the members are able to learn further the opportunities and necessary qualifications in the teaching profession.

REBELETTES

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

The music department at Huguenot Academy is in a period of growth which in the future will produce one of the finest music departments in the state. The high school band, although small in number, is playing music which provides a good musical background for future years.

The elementary band program has been expanded this year and now has a total of 37 members made up of 5th and 6th grade students.

The choral program in the high school is also expanding and we hope to encourage more membership by performing a range of music which will be enjoyed by all.

The music department offers an excellent chance to learn to appreciate good music and provides an education in musical skills which will be very beneficial in the future for all participating students.

FOOTBALL

The Huguenot Academy Rebels ended their season with a 4-6 record. They opened the season with a narrow 7-6 victory over Fluvanna and then lost the last five games to Miller, John Mosby, Caroline, Rock Hill, and Goochland. The Rebels snapped their losing streak by defeating Kenbridge on October 23rd. A week later, York Academy fell to the Rebels.

November 6th was homecoming at Huguenot Academy and a sell-out crowd gathered at the War Memorial Field to watch the Rebels put down a tough Douglas McArthur Academy team. This was the big game of the year, and the Huguenot team rose to the occasion and handed the Mariners a 19-6 loss.

The Season ended on a losing note a week later when Buckingham romped over the Rebels in a big way.

Bill Davis was the big ground gainer for the Rebels. He ended the season with an impressive 6.8 yard per carry average. Raymond Bowlin was close behind him with a 5.7 average. Benny Jessup was the high scorer of the season with 32 points and a 4.0 yard average.

The Rebel linemen who were standouts were John Holdsworth, Bill Weisiger, Eddie Stagg, Jody Harris, and Jack Preston.

Other players who helped the cause were Eddie Stagg, Glen Dunn and Jose Walton.

SALUTES

the following students, whose names and faces fill the final pages of this book. In diverse ways these students have contributed to the success of the Academy in the past year. Some have worked quietly and have not been generally recognized; others have received the acclaim of both the students and the community. The PIONEER congratulates them for their outstanding accomplishments. May they continue to be leaders and, thereby, bring good repute to the name of Huguenot Academy.
